

Logline A family documentary exploring the history of people living alongside birds and bird decline due to the expansion of human society. The film investigates what we can do to protect the environmental engine of our planet.

Tagline I'm so glad you asked!

Format Short documentary

Tone Thoughtful, playful, educational, nature, family

Specs Runtime: 11:29
 UHD (3840x2160) DNxHR 4444
 23.976 fps
 Stereo 24-bit 48kHz Linear PCM
 [-23.1 LUFS]

Website <https://potatochip.nyc/birds-what-are-they-good-for/>

Contact birds@1ntercontinental.com

Narrator Joe Barlam is an actor best known for his many appearances on Investigation Discovery as well as in feature films such as Bloodrunners and Camp Pleasant Lake. He is repped by Dan Clover at Baron Entertainment.
dan@baronentertainment.com

Director & Producer David Diperstein is a documentary and narrative filmmaker in New York City. He won a CINE Golden Eagle for the doc Rink of Fire and has worked on many shows in production and post.

Writer & Producer Charline Tetiyevsky is a published poet, screenwriter, and actor. They have worked as a journalist in Sydney, Los Angeles, and New York.